Ling-en Lu: Sharing Untold Stories

By Mike Finder
October 31, 2011
The Nelson's permanent curator of Chinese art challenges the status quo with lively exhibits bolded with urgent subjects.

As a curator, she was among the first to bring China to life in a series of one-person shows. Initially, they were revealed as works of art that had been unseen in this country before.

The Nelson's permanent curator of Chinese art challenges the status quo with lively exhibits bolded with urgent subjects.

The Nelson's permanent curator of Chinese art challenges the status quo with lively exhibits bolded with urgent subjects.

The Nelson's permanent curator of Chinese art challenges the status quo with lively exhibits bolded with urgent subjects.

The Nelson's permanent curator of Chinese art challenges the status quo with lively exhibits bolded with urgent subjects.